Call for papers

The co-operative movement, even with its agreed values and principles, has always wrestled with the diversity of people, places and organisational variations that have emerged under the banner of co-operation. This creates a specific challenge as the global movement attracts new advocates in the wake of the 2008 crisis. In this conference, we invite you to submit presentations, proposals, panels and activities that consider issues and impacts from the diversity of people, places and organisations that contribute to the co-operative movement.

Workers' Co-operative Exhibition

June 26 - June 30

PLANT NOMA, Redfern, Dantzic Street
Manchester, M60 0AE United Kingdom + Google Map

The 1970s-1990s saw a wave of workers' co-operatives set up. These were businesses owned and run by the workers, based on fairness and shared decision making.

To capture and preserve this distinct period in the history of the co-operative movement the HLF supported 'Working Together' project was set up. This aimed to identify and make accessible for the first time records and oral histories from some of the major UK workers' co-operatives of the 1970s-90s.

This exhibition showcases some of the findings of the project and includes case studies and personal recollections of those involved.
