

Message to Principle 5 Members AGM 2018

The Principle 5 Yorkshire Co-operative Resource Centre Lending Library and Archive are now fully catalogued thanks to our Sheffield University Intern Alex Lusuardi . The links to the spreadsheets are all available to download from the website: www.principle5.coop

In addition the Lending Library book list with links to book reviews and book covers is still available: <https://www.principle5.coop/books>

The Centre maintains all the current editions of Co-operative News as well as back issues. Principle 5 is a member of Co-operative Press, which publishes Co-operative News: www.thenews.coop

The Resource Centre is available to support people who are actively engaged in the wider co- operative and labour movement, and community activists everywhere. Activism should be well informed. Principle 5 itself is not party political.

As well as community activists, the Centre is available to co-operative researchers, academics, social historians and anyone who is interested in learning more about this wonderful and many faceted Co-operative Movement.

The Centre is always available for use by members, by appointment; tel: 0114 282 3132 or email: steve@sheffield.coop

The September 2018 edition of the The Sheffield Co-operator, published by Principle 5, is now available. 1,000 copies have been printed and distributed to members. If you have not received a copy, contact the office and we will get one to you. The PDF version can be downloaded from the Home Page of the website: www.principle5.coop

The Principle 5 Board and volunteers have been working hard to ensure that we become financially sustainable. Our only income is through the subscriptions of our members, so the building up of the member base has been of prime importance. We have been very happy to welcome many new members this year. If you are already a member and feel able to increase your subscription, please complete the Standing Order amendment form and return to the Principle 5 office.
